

Home & Garden Tour a Huge Success!

I could say this is getting routine, but it never is. We outdid ourselves once again. We had the most outstanding Floral Park Home and Garden Tour ever this year! What a delightful weekend. The weather cooperated magnificently. There seemed to be more people engaged, both visitors and neighbors. And, even the luck of the draw with homes and gardens provided an almost perfect distribution across all streets.

I couldn't be more pleased. I know you must feel the same.

We had record attendance and the proceeds will allow us to do a lot of great things this year, including our five scholarships, contributions to 10 or more local charities, beautification of the neighborhood, and some wonderful neighborhood events. We'll have more news of our awardees in the next issue of the newsletter as the general meeting occurs after press time for this issue.

First and foremost, let me thank the home and garden owners. Without them, there would be no tour. Please let the following neighbors know that you sincerely appreciate their generosity and hard work in putting their beautiful homes and gardens on display. They are:

- Wayne Suraci and Merle Craig (home at 1924 North Ross);
- Randy Harmat and Eugenio Vazquez (home at 2102 Victoria Drive);
- Ellen Friedland and David Butts (home at 1908 North Flower);
- Tori and Pete Henson (home at 537 West Santa Clara);
- Nicky Fleming and James Johansson (home at 2109 Heliotrope);
- Michelle and Robert Donahue (home at 2108 North Greenleaf);
- Joe Magaddino (garden at 1919 North Ross);
- Stephanie and Jim Meier (garden at 2023 Greenleaf); and
- Kelly and Patrick Yrarrazaval (garden at 2216 Flower)

Now, I realize that a list of names can get long, but I want you to just

Freedom Fest

Come one, come all!! The Floral Park Neighborhood Association (FPNA) in partnership with the Families of Floral Park (FOFP) will be hosting Freedom Fest on Saturday June 29 from 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. on Ross Street.

The event will kick off at 3:00 p.m. with a bike decorating contest and parade. Participants should meet on Ross Street near the corner of Ross and Santa Clara. The parade route will start on Ross turn right on Santa Clara, right on Victoria, right on 19th, and right back onto to Ross. (Please Note: For the safety and consideration of pedestrians, bicyclists are requested to refrain from riding their bikes within the closed off event area after the parade.)

Starting at 3:30 p.m., live music will be provided by the talented and entertaining 80s cover band, Past Action Heroes (back by popular demand from last year). Bring your dancing shoes and get ready to have a great time.

Letter from the Editors ...

Here's to all volunteers, those dedicated people who believe in all work and no pay. -Robert Orben

As always, the Floral Park newsletter is heavily dependent upon the faithful volunteer contributors who send ideas, write articles, send photos, and provide support in so many ways.

Many thanks to the following neighbors and friends who contributed to this issue:

Blake Anderson • Nicki Curran • Sandy DeAngelis
Sue Edwards • Darlene Glenn-Wolff • Randy Harmat
Sherri Honer • Joe Magaddino • Ann Salisbury
Bev Schauwecker • Jeffrey Smith • Ed Trotter

Deadlines for 2013 editorial material are:

Fall 2013 issue - August 15

Winter 2013 issue - November 15

We also appreciate our faithful returning sponsors and some that are new to this issue. We are grateful for their support of the FLORAL PARK NEWS and encourage you to support them in return.

Wishing you a lovely summer in Floral Park!

What a Great Time for Floral Park

This year's Home & Garden Tour was the best one yet. Homes or gardens were represented on every street south of Santa Clara. We also had a great car show, interesting vendors, good food, and large crowds. The tally is not yet complete as I write this column, but it appears we set a new net income record this year. That money will provide Floral Park with the ability to do great things for itself and for the larger Santa Ana community. It is a time to celebrate!

Plus, the neighborhood just looks great. Darlene and the Beautification Committee touched up the black paint on the streetlights and sign poles south of Santa Clara, placed new flowers at the entrances, and cleaned up and refurbished the entrance monuments. Folks continue to dress up and spruce up their homes. The City continues to do what it can to keep the trees and streetlights up—with promises of more to come.

People seem to be smiling just a little bit more. Ain't that terrific?

Who is Minding the Store?

Have you wondered who controls the association's money? Who decides what the association does? What discretionary spending authority individual board members have? In other words, who is keeping an eye on our assets?

Article III of the Floral Park bylaws is clear:

"No individual or group shall be authorized to commit FPNA to any agreement or obligation without the specific approval of the FPNA Board Members".

This means that all spending decisions, contracts for services, major initiatives, agreements with the City, and payments to third parties must be approved by a majority vote of the board. If an unanticipated expenditure occurs outside of the normal budgeting process, then that expenditure is subject to pre-approval by a majority of the board. Even the monetary decisions of the board are subject to further review and authorization by the general membership.

Floral Park's budget is approved annually at a general membership meeting. Late in 2013, for instance, the proposed budget will be provided well in advance of the meeting so that all 600 households will have a chance to look at what is proposed so they can be prepared to comment, support, or oppose it at the general membership meeting. If a spending issue arises after the budget has been approved, then that item is brought to a general membership meeting.

Blake Anderson, President
BlakePAnderson@gmail.com

Board members or volunteers running projects request payment through invoices that are presented to the treasurer. All checks are normally signed by the treasurer. On rare occasions the board president signs checks during the treasurer's absence. All checks greater than $1000 are signed by both the board treasurer and the board president. All checks are publicly reported after the fact at the next scheduled board meeting. All board business and minutes are publicly available to the residents of the neighborhood.

All board meetings are open to the neighborhood and households are encouraged to attend and observe. All issues move through the board and they usually take two or three months to be thoroughly discussed and understood before the board acts. While the meetings are deliberative in nature and managed according to Robert's Rules of Order, comment by non-board members desiring to do so is always allowed at some point during the deliberation of every agenda item.

These checks and balances guarantee that several sets of eyes look at an expenditure or a project several times from its initial proposal to execution to after-the-fact review.

Hooray for Floral Park's 2013 Neighborhood Hero Nominee: Sandy DeAngelis

Every year, Santa Ana's Communication Linkage Forum asks all 64 neighborhood associations to propose nominees for the city-wide Neighborhood Hero Award. Up to 15 nominees from around the City are selected to receive the award.

This year through an e-mail blast to the neighborhood, the board asked for candidates. Sandy was nominated from a field of six that was suggested by residents like you.

Sandy was part of the group that originally formed the Floral Park Neighborhood Association and its board of directors. She was also the driving force behind the first Home & Garden Tour. She has served continuously on the board for 22 years and has chaired the Home & Garden Tour for 21 years. She has been a driving force for Floral Park achieving the reputation and respect it so much enjoys today. The Tour provides visibility and awareness of our charmed neighborhood. It is also our major source of income and it is the reason we are able to provide scholarships, grants to charity institutions, invest in neighborhood improvements, and conduct our weekend social events. Few neighborhoods in Santa Ana—or the rest of Orange County for that matter—can lay claim to all we accomplish year after year. Imagine Floral Park without Sandy's untiring commitment and inspiration. It certainly takes a village, but someone has to beat the drum, lead the dance, and shout out encouragement.

Sandy and Ed frequently open their home for community events.

Sandy is always one of the first to seek out new residents and welcome them to the neighborhood. Her welcoming smile and warm hugs make us all feel an important part of the neighborhood. She is the face and heart of Floral Park.

It is for these reasons that she was nominated for 2013. The Com-Link board of directors is reviewing the nominees and will announce its picks fairly soon.

Got an issue?

Have a question or a concern? I'm always available for a chat, a cup of coffee, breakfast or lunch. I work at home running a motorcycling association and fielding Floral Park issues so I am nearly always available on short notice. Polly's or Pico De Gallo anyone? I'm buyin'.

Thank You

take a look at a small portion of the people who make the Home and Garden Tour possible, some new and some old neighbors.

- ☒ Ron Romain for stepping to put together the flyer and the Tour book at the 11th hour and saved the day. The book was fabulous.
- ☒ Beverly Schauwecker for her great attention to detail in steering the event and the preparation.
- ☒ Nancy St Jacques and Natalie Summerfield for coordinating the advertising in the book.
- ☒ Susan Hart for arranging an outstanding array of vendors.
- ☒ The Families of Floral Park for the Lemonade stand and great food

- ☒ Nicki Curran and Wanda Marrero for the docents
- ☒ Reva Knapp for the telephone answering, a truly thankless and endless task. (I'm sure there are people still calling in now.)
- ☒ Jessica Carr and Joy Ridout for the thousand things they did to make it all work.
- ☒ Tom Pataca for the permits, signage, street closing and management of the ticket booths.
- ☒ Boe Boezinger and his team, especially Paul Miller, for the set-up and take down.
- ☒ Ruth Seigle for arranging the appreciation gathering.
- ☒ Susan Wilkie for writing the garden articles.
- ☒ Cynthia Wilsie for helping homeowners and writing up the home descriptions.
- ☒ Linda Schulte for public relations, even getting us into Westways, the publication of the Southern California Automobile Club (AAA).
- ☒ John Richmond and Santiago Martin for continuing to have the best car display around.
- ☒ Blake Anderson for coordinating the community agency tables.
- ☒ Ramin Faiz for safety assurance.
- ☒ Jeffiner Faiz, Helen Alberts, Toni Kimball, Susan Grande, and Darlene Glenn-Wolffe for their invaluable calling of docents.

Home & Garden Tour

“See what I mean? It truly does take a village.”

Now, remember, we are North of Santa Clara next year, so go ahead and call me and volunteer your house and garden. There is nothing you could do which would enhance our neighborhood more and I assure you that you will have a great feeling of satisfaction and appreciation for it. Just ask one of this year's or last year's veterans. It's almost unanimous that the experience is what we used to call an E-ticket ride.

Thank You Docents!

Thanks to Helen, Wanda, Susie, Jennifer, Toni and Darlene for calling and getting people to docent. The docents are arranged in homes and then we stuff envelopes and mail them out so they know where to docent.

We had 188 wonderful docents at this year's Home and Garden Tour. Thank you docents for talking about the wonderful attributes of the home you were in and keeping the flow moving smoothly in the homes.

Maybe you would want to join in on the fun. I am always looking for helpers so if you would like to be on the docent committee let me know.

Howdy Neighbors!

The FPNA Social Committee has been busy planning some wonderful, fun-filled events for your enjoyment throughout the year. Two of those events, Freedom Fest and Gelato in July, are just around the corner. Find out more about what you can expect below, and keep an eye out for email blasts and flyers announcing new future events as they are finalized.

This year, Freedom Fest will be honoring our local veterans and active military personnel who have dedicated and sacrificed so much for our country. Make sure to stop by the Freedom Booth where you can participate in a mini-silent auction with all proceeds going to local veterans and military charities. Take a moment to view the Freedom Board containing photographs and/or brief biographies of Floral Park veterans, active military personnel related to Floral Park residents, and military reservists, and write a thank you card to send to active military members. Clear out any excess food in your cupboards and bring canned and dried goods to be donated to Veterans First, which provides housing and services to Orange County's homeless and at-risk veterans and their families.

For all those amazing bakers out there, there will be a good, old-fashioned pie making contest to show off your skills and support a worthy cause. Please bring your homemade pie the day of the event. After the winner is announced and the prize awarded, the pies will be sliced and sold at the event with the proceeds going to Veterans First.

Get creative, have fun, and design a table centerpiece for the event. Up to ten (10) tables will be reserved for those participating in the centerpiece decorating contest. A prize will be awarded for the best design.

The kids can take part in a watermelon eating contest and enjoy carnival games, face painting, and more throughout the day, courtesy of FOFP.

For those not interested in packing their own picnic lunch, hot dogs and drinks will be available for sale from Jerry's Wood Fired Dogs (with all the net proceeds going to benefit Veterans First).

Volunteers are needed to help prior to and during the event. The more volunteers we have, the more time each volunteer will have to enjoy the event with their friends, neighbors, and families. If you are interested in being part of a friendly and fun group of volunteers, please call FPNA Social Director, Sherri Honer at (949) 463-5401, or email her at social@floralpark.com. Also, please contact Sherri if you know someone who you feel should be included on the Freedom Board, or to reserve a table.

Gelato in July

We are pleased to invite you to FPNA's first social night of the year – Gelato in July! Come enjoy great company, great food, free gelato, and a chance to give back to the community.

This wonderful event will be held Tuesday, July 9, 2013 from 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. at Café Lucca located at 106 N. Glassell Street in downtown Orange.

The first 75 Floral Park residents who RSVP will receive one free drink ticket from the FPNA good for one free glass of wine or non-alcoholic beverage. Additionally, café owners and Floral Park residents, Richard and Mary Coleman, will provide free hors d'oeuvres and gelato to each Floral Park resident who attends. In order to attend the event, please send your RSVP to Sherri Honer, FPNA Social Director at social@floralpark.com, or (949) 463-5401.

Residents are invited to stay afterward and enjoy a wonderful dinner at the café. The Coleman's have graciously offered to donate ten percent (10%) of the proceeds from your dinner to Project HOPE Alliance. Project HOPE is an extremely worthwhile organization that provides education and family support to homeless youth in Orange County. Reservations are suggested. 🌿

We hope to see you there!!

SOUP NIGHT!

On February 27, the FPNA held its first Soup Night at the home of Linda and Joe Castro. Over 50 neighbors gathered together to enjoy each other's company and dine on delicious homemade tortilla and tortellini soup. For the vegetarians in the crowd, a tasty potato leek soup was offered. A basket full of fresh baguettes was graciously donated by our own Mother's Market and Kitchen located on Memory Lane in Santa Ana. The attendees were asked to bring at least two cans of soup or other dried goods to donate to the Southwest Community Center in Santa Ana, and the response was overwhelming and heartwarming. Over 300 pounds of food filling two shopping carts were donated to help feed those less fortunate. Way to go Floral Park! The event was so successful, the Social Committee is planning a repeat of the event early next year.

The Social Committee welcomes new members, new ideas, and volunteers. The committee may be reached via email at social@floralpark.com.

Dear Neighbor,

We know you love Floral Park. That's why you live here!

In Floral Park you can be streets away from your house and you will know people...by name! That's pretty rare these days.

The day you moved in you became a member of the Floral Park Neighborhood Association. Whether you contribute or not, you can enjoy all the association benefits. Those benefits include social events like Freedom Fest, Chili Cook-off, Christmas Party and neighborhood mixers. All events are a great way to meet people in the neighborhood. Other benefits include being a recipient of beautification projects such as street lights and tree replacement. The FPNA is a also voice that can approach City Hall to get things done as was the case with the overnight parking permit issue.

It is however, hard to do these things without the support of the neighborhood. While the Association relies heavily on the time and efforts of its volunteers, it does require contributions. The Association and its tasks are funded by these contributions. In 2012, 140 households out of the 630 in Floral Park contributed. We are striving to increase that number this year.

The Floral Park Neighborhood Association is a 501(c)(3) tax-exempt charitable association so your contribution may be tax deductible. Please consult your tax professional for advice.

Any amount is appreciated. Contributors are thanked in the newsletter.

Congratulations to these three neighbors whose homes were nominated by a Floral Park volunteer group for participation in the City of Santa Ana's Most Beautiful Yard Award for this year.

The selection process for the nominations is based on how well the overall yard and home are maintained, a coherent theme for the home and yard is apparent, and well-designed and maintained landscaping. The City will decide the winner during the month of June and a later announcement will be made:

Nominations by Floral Park for the City of Santa Ana's Most Beautiful Yard Award 2013:
(in alphabetical street order only)

2323 Bonnie Brae (the home of Jorge and Miriam Gallindo)

2118 N. Greenleaf St. (the home of Karla and Fred Ledon)

2418 Riverside Dr. (the home of Bobbie and Doug Kraus)

Recently Completed Neighborhood Projects:

Keeping on track with the Neighborhood's request for noticeable beautification projects, we have been busy working.

Entrance Ways:

Just before Home Tour, the three Floral Park monument entrance way tiles have been replaced and the monuments themselves have been power washed with special attention to the lettering spelling out Floral Park. The entrance ways were planted with zinnias for a splash of color.

If you would like to become more involved in the neighborhood and have an interest in improving the public areas, please come to the next Beautification Committee meeting on Saturday, June 15 at 9a.m. at the home of Darlene Glenn-Wolff at 2133 Greenleaf St. (RSVP via tel 714-558-6091 or e-mail: darlene_glenn@hotmail.com). If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me.

Sarah May Downey Herb Garden:

With labor from the City Parks & Rec Department, new decomposed granite was installed on the pathways in the Herb Garden in time for Home Tour. A volunteer neighbor, Patrick Yrarrazaval, fixed the lights in the garden. In addition, a

Dumpster Day and Donation Drive:

The first Saturday of April, there were 5 large dumpsters around the neighborhood for large waste disposal. Hope you got a chance to drop off your large items.

In addition, the Foster Care Auxiliary of Orange County had a donation drive. The organization would like to thank all those who donated some wonderful items to them.

Lamp Posts and Sign Poles:

Jessica Carr and Joy Ridout rounded up a group of volunteer neighbors one Saturday morning in April and touched up the black paint on all the lamp posts and street sign poles from Santa Clara south in time for Home Tour. Thank you to all the volunteers for their hard work.

The paint comes off from normal wear and tear, but especially from people affixing tape to the poles for notices. Please be careful not to affix tape that will peel off the paint when you are putting up sign for lost pets or garage sales.

We will be completing the north end of the neighborhood soon. If you are interested in volunteering, contact Darlene Glenn-Wolff at 2133 Greenleaf St. (RSVP via tel 714-558-6091 or e-mail: darlene_glenn@hotmail.com).

with Ed Trotter

So, we all have our favorite eateries, but it's interesting how different needs call for different solutions.

Take, for example, the dilemma of going to dinner before a live performance such as South Coast Rep (SCR) in Costa Mesa. Since the plays begin at 8, we always ponder whether to go a bit more elegant and languorous or just make it quick and easy. We've tried both. Neither works perfectly.

Do you have that memorable evening out with both excellent fine dining as well as stimulating drama? Or, do you focus on one or the other?

At the two most recent performances of SCR, Sandy, Susan Hart and I have gone the upmarket route to mixed success because, as with an airline reservation, there's always that nagging anxiety that you'll be late. We seem to have come to the conclusion that hurrying is counterproductive.

AnQi, a fantastic Vietnamese restaurant in South Coast Plaza next to Bloomingdale's and behind Charlie Parker's restaurant, certainly fills the bill for upmarket. It ain't cheap! But, I can't say we didn't get our money's worth. It is absolutely fabulous. The décor is just breathtaking, the service impeccable, and the food divine. It's a place that one needs to take in as the evening's entertainment. It is performance eating. So, why hurry perfection?

But we did. To our chagrin, really.

If you'd like to get a feel for the elegance and grace of AnQi, go to www.anqibistro.com. It, too, is a work of art.

OK, so being a stubborn bunch, we thought we'd try it again. And, a month or two later we visited Il Barone, just across the airport runway from SCR. I had great reviews from friends. We were able to squeeze in a 6:30 reservation on the same day as the play. I should have known better, but nooooooo.

Tucked away in a mélange of businesses to include real estate agencies, brokers, hair salons, and other restaurants, Il Barone is not imposing. Being a foodie, I think of its closest landmark being Tapas, obviously a Spanish place, that's been there for years.

Again, that time squeeze. We sat down and immediately told the waiter we'd need to leave by 7:30 or so. That just put us in the mood of anxiety. Would the food arrive, would we finish in time, what do we do if we're late?

Now, this was a fine meal, but we all came away less than satisfied. I think the lesson learned was, don't do this anymore.

So, our new/old solution for pre-theatre dining is to return to our two old standbys, Thasos Island Grille, a Greek place, and Tandoori India Cuisine, in the shopping center at 3940 Bristol on the corner with Sunflower, just east and across the parking lot of Red Robin. Both have great food at reasonable cost. They're geared to get you in and out with good service and not so much fuss and bother.

At Thasos Island Grille you can get your standard Greek fix – spanakopita, excellent soups, Greek salads, pita bundles, souvlaki, moussaka, and lamb stew. Of course, there are always delicious daily specials that uniformly please the palate. It's nice and easy, making for a wonderful comforting, dining experience without a lot of fuss and muss. Make it a "pita" stop next time you're down that way.

Tandoori India Cuisine is an inviting little establishment, just a few doors from Thasos Island Grille. The staff is friendly and the variety on the menu is pretty amazing. In case you don't know, a tandoori is a cylindrical clay oven used in Indian cooking and thus giving rise to a style of cuisine. While we may or may not find a clay tandoori at this restaurant, the food certainly doesn't show it. It's doggone good for the price. I must say that Indian food continues to surprise and tantalize me. It is right there with French, Italian and Chinese in my book.

Reviewing the menu online as I just did I was once again struck with the fact that there must be a dozen options each among tandoori, chicken, and lamb entrees as well as perhaps two dozen vegetarian choices. Indians are often vegetarians and this type of food is an excellent option for non-meat eaters.

But, for ease and comfort, this is a marvelous pre-theater dining opportunity.

So, lesson learned. Let fine dining be fine dining and fine theater be fine theater, perhaps with a little quick and easy as a precursor.

AUGUST 26, 1952 – MARCH 18, 2013

Keith Peterson Jr. passed away peacefully with his family by his side on March 18, 2013.

Keith lived in Floral Park on Greenleaf street with his brother, sister-in-law and nephews for the past 16 years.

When Keith first moved to Floral Park he was frequently seen walking to Main Place Mall, or to work at Integrity House on Broadway and was a fixture at the neighborhood dances. Keith loved to dance and wouldn't miss one of the Floral Park socials that included a live band. Keith always brought smiles to people's faces due to his infectious friendly nature and his trademark "I know you" introductory comment. He loved people and was in turn loved by them.

Due to some health issues during the past two years, Keith didn't venture out into the neighborhood as often as in the past, but because of these health issues, Keith acquired a new friend. Sue Edwards, another Floral Park resident became a good friend of Keith's as his caregiver during the day while the Peterson's worked. Sue provided a loving environment for Keith during his last year of life and we are truly grateful to her.

Family, friends, neighbors and all who knew Keith will miss him and the love and joy he radiated.

On June 9, 2013, Five Santa Ana High School Seniors and One Santa Ana College student will be awarded $1,000 college scholarships at the General Meeting of the Floral Park Neighborhood Association. One of the high school scholarships was donated by long-time neighbor, Lou Pecora, in memory of his life partner, Joseph Bangor. The remaining scholarships were funded by the FPNA from proceeds of the Home and Garden Tour.

The Sponsorship Committee met several times to determine which of the almost 50 high school and almost 10 SAC applications were most exceptional. The applications were judged based on the students' most meaningful volunteer or service experience and how it impacted their lives.

Scholarships:

- ☒ Tuyet-Trinh Ho of Valley High School was the recipient of the $1,000 Joseph Bangor Memorial Scholarship.
- ☒ Roberto Carlos Lopez of Middle College High was the recipient of a $1,000 FPNA Scholarship.
- ☒ Noemi Ruiz of Century High School was the recipient of a $1,000 FPNA Scholarship.
- ☒ Maria Stephanie Hernandez of Valley High School was the recipient of a $1,000 FPNA Scholarship.
- ☒ Daisy Espinoza of Valley High School was the recipient of a $1,000 FPNA Scholarship.
- ☒ Jessica Sii of Santa Ana College was the recipient of the $1,000 Santa Ana College Scholarship.

Charities

The following charities were selected by the Sponsorship Committee to be awarded grants totaling $5,000. The Committee selected these particular Santa Ana-based organizations because each is geared to provide direct services that affect the residents of Santa Ana and the local community.

Each of the following organizations was awarded $500:

1. Santiago Elementary – Our local elementary school located on Baker Street in the West Floral Park neighborhood. In conjunction with the Principal of Santiago, a project will be chosen by the Sponsorship Committee for funding.

2. Wooden Floor (formerly St. Joseph Ballet) – Located on Broadway St. in Santa Ana, Wooden Floor is a nonprofit organization that annually gives 375 underserved local youth the tools to live fuller, healthier lives through a unique approach grounded in dance. They engage in intensive dance education supported by academic and family services that change the way they make decisions, helping them to discover and pursue their potential. Since 2005, a 100 percent graduate from high school on time and go on to pursue higher education. This is about three times the national average for their socio-economic peers.

For more information: thewoodenfloor.org

3. Taller San Jose – Located on Broadway St. in Santa Ana is an innovative program in Central Orange County that empowers young adults--who have fallen through the cracks of all existing support services—to move out of poverty by teaching them how to get and keep employment with a living wage.

For more information: tallersanjose.org

4. WISEPlace – Located on Broadway St. in Santa Ana is a community of housing and hope for women in crisis. Formerly the South Orange County YWCA, WISEPlace has an 85 year history of caring for local women, children and families. By meeting basic needs such as housing, food, clothing, physical and emotional nourishment, as well as vocational and life skills training, the WISEPlace Hotel for Women is one of the few places homeless women can go to begin again.

For more information: wiseplace.org

5. South West Community Center – Their mission is to provide the basic needs of food, clothing, shelter, household items, referral services and other support services to the homeless, low-income and economically disadvantaged in an effort to enable them to become or retain self-sufficiency.

For more information: swcommunitycenter.org

6. Santa Ana Pony League – Based in Riverview Park in Santa Ana, Santa Ana Pony is a non-profit youth baseball organization that provides baseball to ages 4-14 years old throughout entire the City of Santa Ana. In their premier season (2013), the enrollment numbers reached 396 players. They are currently enrolling for the Fall 2013 season.

For more information: santaanapony.com

7. Family Assessment Counseling & Education Services – F.A.C.E.S. located on E. 4th St. in Santa Ana, FACES provides mental health services to hundreds of families going through separation, divorce, or family violence, coordinating monitored visitation, and providing anger management, parenting classes, and other essential services that help strengthen families and our communities.

For more information: facescal.org

8. Court Appointed Special Advocates of Orange County – CASA is a non-profit organization serving our county's most severely abused, abandoned and neglected children through the recruitment and training of volunteers who advocate for their best interests.

For more information: casaoc.org

9. KidWorks – Located on W. Chesnut in Santa Ana, KidWorks is a year-round after-school program with tutoring, mentoring and leadership development for low-income Santa Ana youth. KidWorks now serves over 800 children, youth, and parents through weekly programs and summer camps and over 3,000 community members annually from three learning centers. All programs are based on the four pillars of KidWorks: Academics & Arts, Health & Fitness, College & Career Readiness, and Spiritual & Leadership Development.

For more information: kidworksonline.org

10. Assistance League of Santa Ana – Located on 1st St. in Santa Ana, over 2,750 children, teens and seniors in Santa Ana receive help from ALSA. With over 450 volunteers, ALSA continuously serves the greater Santa Ana community since 1935 through programs of subsidized dental care, free eye exams and glasses, school uniforms and supplies to elementary students, gifts to seniors, support to college students through mentoring and scholarships.

Neighborhood Notes

Good Eats at Puerto Madero Market

by Ann Salisbury

Tucked inside an unassuming blue stucco building on 17th Street near Bristol is an Argentine market and deli that serves some of the best sandwiches around. Led there by a very positive review from the OC Register a few years back, we found a neighborhood gem with a very casual atmosphere and friendly service. My introduction was via the choripan, essentially a sausage sandwich, but one that takes it to a new level with beef sausage, chimichurri sauce, and a roll of soft white bread with just enough crunch in the crust to hold it all together.

My favorite sandwich is the chivito. It is made with the same bread, but seems to contain a little bit of everything: a slice of steak, ham, bacon, red bell pepper, tomato and lettuce, and all in the right proportion. Pair it up with an Inca Cola, and you have yourself a very hearty meal. Prefer hand pies? Puerto Madero has you covered with empanadas filled with beef, chicken, ham and cheese, tuna, or spinach. You can get them fresh from the oven or frozen to cook up at home. If you need a take-out lunch or dinner, call in advance and they will have your sandwiches and empanadas ready for you to take to your home or office.

Talking about deli is only half the story, however. While the market offers products from Argentina, Columbia, and other points south, the meat and deli case have become my go-to for beef, chicken, and deli meats. You can find everything you need for a charcuterie platter, including olives. Prefer grass fed beef over corn? Puerto Madero is closest place around to source it. They have some of the best looking ox tail and short ribs I have seen. Not sure what you want? Angel, the butcher, is there to answer your questions. They even offer “variety meats,” if that’s your thing.

Hello Neighbors,

I am looking for people in the area that are interested in playing Advanced Level Chess. If anyone is interested please call Tricia Lockhart at 714 721-8935.

Also, wanted to get some input about having a section of the newsletter for names of people that have similar interests. Often times there are local events and a group can be formed for social outings.

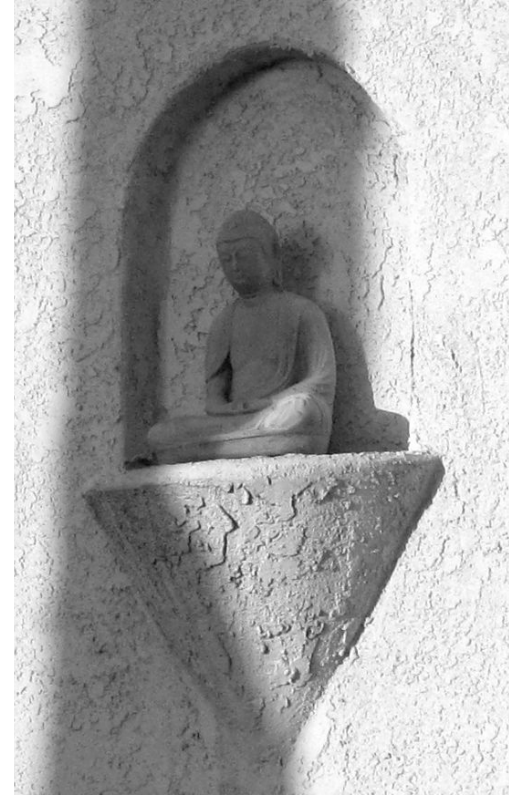

I know we had the Garden Club but we no longer meet. Even just listing names of people that have hobbies for a reference might be a good idea.

Did you know...

Walking down Greenleaf Street, one will notice Di's Little Lending Library, put up by a thoughtful neighbor. Take a volume for your reading pleasure and donate back one of your own.

Can you find the Buddha?

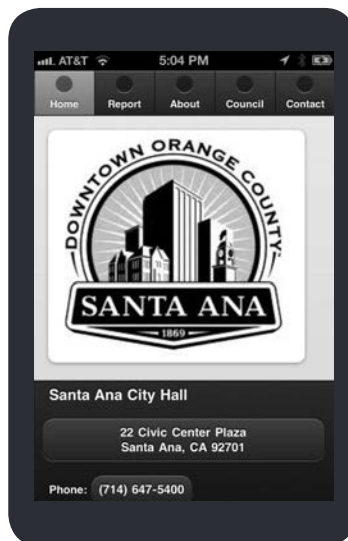

Send in your answer for a chance to win a See's gift certificate of a one-pound box to the person who first identifies the address of the house via e-mail to secretary@floralpark.com. (Resident or FPNA board members excluded!)

The City of Santa Ana has a "mySantaAna" Smart Phone application that allows residents with iPhones and Android phone to point, click and send photos of maintenance issues such as graffiti, illegal dumping, potholes, sidewalk defects, street signs, street sweeping, trees, street light repair, weeds, storm drain, water pollution, hazardous waste, animal services, shopping cart removal and transient debris.

iPhone and Android users may download the "mySantaAna" application for free from the iPhone App Store and Google Play Android Market by searching for the keyword "mySantaAna". Once installed, users will simply open the application and follow the prompts to take pictures of the issue and then tap "submit". Using built-in global positioning system technology, "mySantaAna" will attach a location to the picture and route the information to the appropriate City department for resolution.

City staff and Vendors will now be able to respond like a business, using better technology, encouraging efficiency and faster response times.

Need Minutes?

If you've missed a neighborhood general meeting and would like to obtain a copy of the minutes, you can request a copy to be mailed (or emailed) to you. Monthly board meeting minutes are also available on request. Just send your request with name, street address and/or email address to email: secretary@floralpark.com or via mail to: FPNA (Minutes), P.O. Box 11366, Santa Ana, CA 92711-1366
